In 2017, Dale Rogers Training Center's programs received a 3-year accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF).

CARF International

CARF International is an independent, nonprofit accreditor of health and human services providers. CARF assists service providers in improving the quality of their services by applying sets of quality standards during an on-site survey.

When a service or program is CARF accredited, it means it has undergone an in-depth review of its services and demonstrated substantial conformance to the CARF standards during the on-site survey. The service or program has demonstrated its commitment to delivering quality services that focus on your needs and preferences.

Dale Rogers Training Center currently holds a Three-Year Accreditation from CARF International in the following:

- Community Employment Services; Employment Supports – Employment

- Transition Services – Transition School-to-Work

What does that mean for you?

- Accreditation is evidence to persons served that an organization has demonstrated its commitment to encouraging feedback, continuously improving services, enhancing performance, and managing risk.
- Persons served and their families can be confident that services will be focused on their unique needs.

Transition School-to-Work Program

Work Adjustment Training

The Transition School-To-Work program has been recognized by the Oklahoma Department of Education and serves many high schools in Oklahoma City and surrounding areas. The program provides a head start to employment after graduation, as well as assistance with finding a job through DRTC's Employment Services Program after graduation.

High School juniors and seniors participate in job exploration at local businesses. Students are supervised by well-trained staff. Examples of job exploration sites include:

- Party Galaxy
- OSU/OKC Horticulture Center
- Crest
- Walgreen's
- Bethany YMCA
- Embassy Suites

Training includes job readiness and soft skills training.

The Oklahoma Transition Council provides a Timeline of Transition Activities to use to help prepare your child for adulthood. Programs, services and activities are grouped by age.

For more information on how to access these services, or if you are a teacher looking for training opportunities for your students with disabilities, contact the Transition Coordinator at 405-946-4489 ext. 1802 or email Transition@drtc.org.

School-aged kids may also be interested in DRTC's Camp Tumbleweed Summer Program.
